They grew up with an African-American president, a female presidential hopeful and the legalization of gay marriage.

80% supported legalizing marriage equality before the government acted.

50% increase in multiracial youth population since 2000. (The most diverse generation)
THEY WANT TO CHANGE THE WORLD — AND BELIEVE THEY CAN.

/ They care about human rights and global warming.
/ They want to know how they can change the world.
/ They identify with brands that are authentic. Think Zappos, Chipotle.
/ Social entrepreneurship is one of the most popular career choices.
THEY VALUE AND SUPPORT THEIR SUPPORT SYSTEM.

/ 1/3 live in single-parent household
/ Their families are more diverse (ethnically, racially and religiously).
/ Multigenerational family households have doubled since 1980.
/ Gen Z shares many of the same values as the Greatest Generation.
/ 88% are extremely close to their parents, often referring to them as their “best friends.”
They are realists. They were born around 9/11, watched their parents deal with a recession, and were constantly made aware of their safety.

Lock-down drills were routinely practiced in school, just as we practiced fire drills.

“We always make sure we know where the exits are in a movie theater.”
THEY ARE LESS RISKY IN THEIR BEHAVIORS.

/ More than 25% were targets of bullying.
/ When they come to campus, they want to know they will fit in.
/ Less likely to drink alcohol, smoke or use illicit drugs than prior generations.
/ Meeting friends, hanging out and studying are more important than “getting hammered.”
/ Look for venues with the “wow” factor that offer opportunities to post to social media.

High school students who had at least one drink of alcohol in their lives:

82% in 1991
66% in 2013
A 2014 study by Global Workforce Expectations say they are the "emoticon generation." They are digital natives.
THEY HAVE GROWN UP WITH TECHNOLOGY.

They are digital natives.

/ They send more than 100 texts a day.
/ Attention span? 8 seconds
/ Why? They multitask across 5 screens.
/ Get personal. 72% want personalized content across all devices.

Social media is the No. 1 reason they use the internet.
SOCIAL LIVES.

/ More private on social media (only 18% share “a lot” online)
/ They don’t want to be tracked (prefer Snapchat)
/ Prefer visual channels (YouTube, Vine) and visual storytelling
THEY ARE HEALTH CONSCIOUS.
Grew up in a health-crazed (low-fat, GF, vegan, dairy-free) world.

/ 23% of their disposable income is spent on food
/ 58% are willing to pay more for organic or natural products
/ Gravitate towards natural ingredients and healthy greens
/ Ethnically diverse generation also means more ethnic foods and tastes explored
/ Enjoy sodas but more likely to order bottled water, lemonade, fruit juice or smoothies
They are self-directed.

Can access information easily so rely less on parents/teachers to explain things.

- 55% feel pressure from parents to get early professional experience
- 77% are extremely interested in volunteering to gain work experience
- 74% Budding entrepreneurs want to work for themselves
THEY WANT TO BE ENTERTAINED.

THEY VALUE HIGHER EDUCATION.

Learning experiences are not confined to buildings and campuses.

85% do research online
33% watch lessons online
46% worry about their GPA more than being popular or staying healthy

/ They want to craft their own programs of study
/ Eager to learn how to apply what they learn
They grew up hearing about college debt.

They also recently heard the national conversation as to whether higher education is worth it.

65% worry about the economy in general

They want to know how investing in a four-year degree will pay off.

“Value for cost” is more important than “low cost”
SO. HOW DO WE ENGAGE WITH GEN Z?
MEET THEM WHERE THEY HANG OUT.
SHARE. ENGAGE. BE SOCIAL.

/ Use all platforms.
/ Remember they are multitasking across screens.
/ Share the story in visuals that appeal to them.
/ Keep it short and entertaining.

/ Engage with them.
/ They want to collaborate and respond.
/ Create conversations not just infuse information.

/ Put more recruitment info on social media, not just your web site.
/ 32% were more inclined to apply to a college that they can research via social media.
INCLUDE INFLUENCERS IN THE CONVERSATION.

Parents / Grandparents / Counselors & Teachers

THEY WANT TO KNOW HOW YOU WILL PROVIDE:

Personal growth opportunities
/ Project 168

Means to success
/ critical thinking, applying academic concepts to real-world situations

Outcomes
/ will they land a job in 6 months with high future income potential?
BE AUTHENTIC. THEY WANT TO KNOW WHO WE ARE.

Do they agree with our values?
Can they see themselves fitting in here?

They want to know you care.
They want to know how you are going to help them change the world.
TALK ABOUT OUTCOMES.

They are concerned about getting a job and making a difference.

/ Share placement numbers and what employers are recruiting here.
/ Share alumni stories, specifically young alums.
/ Show how the University is making a difference.
/ Talk about the value vs “low cost.” Cheap does not equal good.
/ Continue to highlight student stories.
/ Let them see how they would fit in.
ENGAGE THEM.

It’s about the experience they can share.

/ We will be judged on the experience we provide.
/ Think about how everything is presented and the impression it leaves.
/ Think about the food you offer at your events.
/ Provide fruits, fresh veggies, water, juices. (But keep the Flying WV cookies in there, too.)
/ Talk about social issues and how you approach them.
/ Take time to get to know them and their interests.

Can I take a photo for Instagram? Can I tweet what she just said? Can I show this on Snapchat?
Make sure photography shows the diversity of this generation (gender, sexual orientation, ethnicity, fashion, etc.)

Shorter content is key.

They like to “do stuff.” Get them engaged in a DIY project or promotion.

Talk about global engagement.

Invite them to be a part of something bigger than themselves.

Show what they can do together with others.

use images they can relate to: emojis, symbols, pictures, etc.
MARKET THOUGHTFULLY.

/ Address safety concerns.
/ Use all the platforms across multiple screens.
/ Optimize your search results.
They will search “marketing, wvu” on Google.
/ Think about where that search takes them on your site.
They want to be WOW’ed.
/ Surprise them every once in awhile with free stuff or a game.
